KINDERGRADS: June marks the end of the school year and graduation for many, including those who have just started their educational journey. Kindergarten student Jordan Moore, sporting a brightly coloured mortar board, received her certificate and the congratulations of Archie Stouffer Elementary School Principal Rosie Kenney Thursday, as her teacher, Toos Reid, looked on. The ceremony for grade eight graduates takes place Monday evening at Archie Stouffer and Tuesday evening at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School and Ridgewood Public School in Coboconk.

Minden rolls out the red carpet for Canada Day festivities

It's a great day to be Canadian, a great day to be in Minden!

Once again Minden plays host to a giant birthday party on July 1.

The annual Canada Day celebration is slated for this coming Sunday with all kinds of fun for the entire family.

"We try to make this an event that everyone can enjoy," member of the organizing committee, Nancy Rogers, said. "Most of the activities are free, so this does not have to be an expensive day for anyone."

In the past, Minden's Canada Day celebration, which is held on South

Water Street along the river, has proven to be very popular. It is generally a low key event with community displays, activities for children, arts and crafts displays and fun on the water.

"We've brought the bounce games back for another year including the Caterpillar Crawl, the bounce Castle and, new this year, the Bungee run for teens and adults." According to Rogers the bungee run involves slipping into a harness attached to several bungee cords. The participant runs as

Bears continue to make their presence felt

by Jerry Grozelle

Bears continue to be a problem in the Highlands. Albert and Nelda Yakeley have been hit by burglars of the furry kind four times over the past couple of weeks. Twice, bears have broken into their garage to get at garbage that was stored behind locked doors. On the night of June 16, a bear went through a screened window in the back room of their house and left garbage strewn on the floor and outside on the lawn. Paw prints showed that the bruin tried to get into the freezer.

Albert admitted he was "scared to go to bed" after having a bear in the back room of his home.

The next afternoon, around 5 o'clock, a bear was seen behind the Yakeley's house. Neighbours armed with rifles went looking for the bear, but it disappeared into the bush.

Early last week, after numerous complaints from Lutterworth Pines residents, a live trap was set up. On Monday, Ministry of Natural Resources bear specialist Bart Hillhorst fast as possible away from the anchor until the recoil of the cord kicks in. The person comes flying back, cushioned by the inflated panels.

The day will also feature what is expected to be a major display of antique cars. "We are expecting many more cars because it is Sunday," Rogers said. "As well, Ridgewood Ford is sponsoring the competition so there are some major prizes to be won. The cars will be on display along either side of South water Street, starting at the Beaver Theatre.

On the water, The Crazy Raft Race takes place. Imaginative and zany rafts in all sorts of shapes and designs will make their way from Rotary Park to the Main Street bridge starting at 1:15 p.m.

At 3 p.m. the Lioness Rubber Duck Race takes place with the river filled with hundreds of bobbing yellow heads as the current carries the ducks downstream.

The river is also the focus for the rock bass derby which starts at 7 a.m. Weigh-in takes place at 11 o'clock at the bridge.

Most of the display and activities begin at 11 a.m. with the opening ceremonies slated for 1 a.m. with the singing of the national anthem followed by the slicing of the giant birthday cake in which everyone is invited to share.

The downtown activities will come to an end about 4 p.m.

At 7 p.m. the action switches to the ball diamonds behind the arena. A lob ball game between the OPP and a Lob ball League all-star team. The band Minor Details will be playing for those gathered in advance of the fireworks which are slated to start at dusk. (If the weather does not cooperate, the fireworks display will be rescheduled for July 2 at dusk.)

Back on the community's Main Street, an outdoor dance will take place from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

There are many more activities and entertainment throughout the day. Bring your own lawn chairs. See the advertisement in this edition of The Times for a complete schedule.

"We hope everyone can make it down, even if it is just for a few hours," Rogers said. "It is a great community and Canadian celebration."

Company wants to record the sights and sounds of Haliburton County on tape

by Matthew Sitrer

George Farrell looked into the future recently and liked what he saw.

The Co-Partner/Producer with Fireweed Media Productions Inc. began scouting Haliburton County locations armed only with a digital video camera.

His purpose? To capture for posterity and tourist promotion purposes, some of the County's unique locations and events. He began by visiting Minden's County Town Museum/Agnes Jamieson Gallery complex.

"I'm starting the ball rolling," he said. "I want to document events, locations and interviews that have to do with Haliburton County, in the hope that they can be used as tourism tools to inform visitors realistically about all the great things the County has to offer."

Farrell said that up to now, there appears to be little initiative shown in this area, and that is a shame. "It would be great for the county," he exclaimed. "We need a wider visual record than we have. I have been given the opportunity to use the equipment, so why not start?" Farrell hopes to hear from interested individuals who have ideas on what could or should be recorded.

"For instance, we have all of these beautiful Andre Lapine paintings in storage at the Agnes Jamieson, why not tape them, along with some narration and show the public, who would like to know more about them?" he asks.

Fireweed Media Productions Inc. has already produced a half-hour documentary on Haliburton's disadvantaged. That was done during 1997/1998 and has been shown many times on the CBC. Documentary footage of the disadvantaged of the City of Kawartha Lakes, and subway systems of the world have also been recorded.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery would have the benefit of a video documentation of the numerous attractions of Haliburton County, said Gallery Curator Dianne Graham. "We could house a system here that would enable gallery visitors an opportunity to view and learn about them," she said.

Farrell added that a non-profit organization such as the gallery and others within the county, would have to show an interest in order to receive funding for any planned project.

George Farrell wants to capture the images of the Highlands for promotional purposes. Here he works with Agnes Jamieson Gallery curator Dianne Graham in front of the Bowron Homestead at the Minden Museum Complex.

"I would be in a position then to offer my footage," he added. The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, he suggested, could even use footage of these locations at their trade show booths.

Celebration and memories at HCACL annual meeting

by Jack Brezina, editor

It was an evening of celebration, and reflection tinged with sadness last week, as the Haliburton County Association for Community Living held its annual general meeting. Clients, friends, supporters and staff gathered at the Haliburton Legion hall, next to the HCACL workshop June 19 to hear the traditional annual reports and reflect on the year gone by.

While there was good reason to celebrate the past year, the meeting also marked the last one for executive director Cheryl Anderson. She is leaving in early July, after 20 years with the organization.

"Thank you for your 20 years of dedicated service to our association," HCACL president Linda Brandon said. "Thank you for ensuring that we have the best, hard-working staff, board members and community volunteers to keep the daily wheel of the association moving forward."

Brandon paid tribute to the executive director for her enthusiasm and for constantly striving to improve the organization.

"Thank you from the bottom of my heart," Anderson responded her voice choked with emotion. "I don't know why God let me have such a wonderful job."

Anderson paid tribute to the staff and the board and, in particular, Pat Burke for her "special help". "This has been a personally enriching experience that has given a lot to me. It is a privilege to have come into the lives of so many wonderful people. You will always be in my heart."

The executive director was presented with a gift and bouquet of flowers as a token of appreciation for her hard work.

President Linda Brandon reviewed the highlights of the year including: the implementation of a new strategic plan; the hiring of the association's new executive director, Maureen O'Hara; increased security of funding sources including participation in the Bridging Steps to the Community program, an expansion of the building bridges initiative; building a positive public image in collaboration with nearby associations and the provincial association; increased awarenesses, including the article which appeared in Reader's Digest magazine which highlighted Amy Brandon and the lunch buddies program at the high school, as well as others.

Dorset marks the end of an era

Change is never easy. When it cuts to the heart of a community, it is that much more difficult.

Such was the case Monday evening, June 18, when the students, staff, parents and other members of the community gathered to mark the closing of Dorset Elementary School.

"I really didn't really think about it until last week," Principal Doris Macdonald said as we stood in the hallway of the school. "I was packing up some boxes and then it hit... 'this is it'."

Earlier this year, the Trillium Lakelands District School Board announced the closure of Dorset Elementary School. The decision came after a series of meetings at which the community came to the defence of its school.

While a valiant effort was mounted, one that included facts, figures and no small degree of emotion, the committee recommended to the board that the school be closed. It was difficult, under the ongoing cuts in educational funding, to justify keeping the school open for just 30 students.

The students will be attending Irwin Memorial Elementary School in Dwight in September.

"The students have helped with the move," the principal explained. "We have attempted to turn the change into a positive one by involving them in all aspects. To help ease the transition, all the teachers will be going to the Dwight school as well. There will be familiar faces there when the students arrive in September. We are going together."

In addition to assisting with the packing, there have been a number of special activities at the school during the past couple of weeks. The entire school travelled to Algonquin Park for a educational trip and overnight experience.

Monday evening the school was open to visitors. They toured the classrooms, viewed pictures on the walls and picked up photos from the picture exchange table. Outside, volunteers manned the barbecues serving hot dogs and hamburgers to the many in attendance.

At 7 p.m. the crowd moved to the Dorset Recreation Centre for a farewell assembly. The student who participated in the school's DARE program received their certificates and T-shirts.

Then the time came for final words.

Head of the Dorset School Council, Laurie Parniak, said the closure of the school would bring an end to over 100 years of education in the community. She read a poem which spoke about the many students and teachers which had given the school its character over the years. "How do you wrap up over 100 plus years of education?" she asked. "Sure there will be tears, but we will all have memories of the many good things the school meant to us."

Parniak paid tribute to Haliburton County Trustee Valerie Smith. "She understands the importance of a school to a community. Thank you for all your hard work on our behalf."

Smith responded by thanking the Dorset area parents and residents for their support during the hearings to close the school. She told the audience that the school board had agreed to donate the school bell and the collection of stuffed birds to the heritage group which is starting a museum in Dorset.

Kevin Cutler, Principal of Irwin and Dorset schools, also thanked the community for its support. "I have had a great time, (except for the closure meetings)," he said with a laugh. We could become really angry over the closure, but I have come to know the Dorset community over the years and that is not the way that you do things here. You have much to be proud of in Dorset. The school is just a building, but it was the community which breathed life into it."

He concluded by asking the community to support the students as they move to a new school.

The evening closed with a song written by one of the teachers. The students gathered on stage and sang the moving tribute and then the members of the audience were asked to join the youngsters for the second time. Sung to the tune of Auld Lang Syne, there were few dry eyes in the auditorium by the time the evening came to a close.

Remembering Dorset Elementary School in song

Oh Dorset School, so small yet strong,
We're gathered one last time
To bid farewell and shed a tear
For Auld Lang Syne.

Through all the year your grads have shown
Good citizenship and strength
We hope that all will ne'er forget
Friends they have made here.

So Dorset School now goes to Dwight
The future should be bright
Go forward now, be ever proud
Of Dorset then and now.

For Auld Lang Syne my friend
For Auld Lang Syne
We'll taste the cup of kindness yet,
For Auld Lang Syne

Car driver injured, bus passenger unhurt*Vehicle slams into back of school bus

Ontario Provincial Police from the Kawartha Lake detachment are continuing their investigation into a car-school bus collision Monday morning on Highway 121, just north of Burnt River.

The collision occurred as the bus was stopped to pick up its first passenger, 12 year Brigitte Bacon. She climbed onto the bus and had just taken her seat near the back of the bus when a car driven by 38 year old Catherine Kerr of Fenelon Falls slammed into the rear of the bus.

The height of the bumper and the design of the car, resulted in the vehicle being forced under the back end of the bus. It came to a stop with the bumper of the bus at the windshield of the car.

The force of the impact jarred the bus and tossed the only passenger around, however, the twelve year old sustained only a minor cut to her arm. The unidentified driver of the bus was uninjured in the collision.

The accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. Firemen from the Burnt River station arrived on the scene at 7:40 with back-up crews arriving from the Kinmount Baddow stations.

"The car was jammed under the bus," John Blackmore, spokesman for the Burnt River Fire Department, stated. "The driver was still conscious, but there was little we could do until we freed the car from under the bus."

Using the Jaws of Life, the firemen were able to raise the back end of the bus enough to pull the car free. With the same equipment, the firemen then peeled back the roof of the car, pulled the steering wheel forward and cut it away.

The paramedics were then able to slip a back board under the injured driver and remove her from the crushed vehicle.

The patient was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay and later transferred to Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto. Kerr is suffering from multiple leg injuries and was last described as being in critical condition.

County Road 121 was closed for several hours as the OPP carried out an extensive investigation into the collision. The vehicle is also being examined to determine if there was a mechanical failure.

The student who was on the bus when the collision took place seemed unphased by the incident. After being treated for the minor injury, she insisted on attending school. The 12 year old boarded another bus and carried on to her Grade 6 class at St. John's School in Kirkfield.

Police officers examine the twisted remains of the vehicle which crashed into the rear of a school bus on Monday near Burnt River. While some of the destruction is a result of the effort to extricate the driver, the front hood of the vehicle was peeled back by the impact as the car slid under the rear bumper of the school bus.

None better

As close to perfection as you are likely to find anywhere in the entire world.

Oh sure, the climate could be a little more hospitable, but then where in the world don't they complain about the weather from time to time? And yes, we might want to tinker with the way we do things from time to time, but all things considered, we don't think there is any other place most Canadians would want to live.

And with good reason too. One doesn't have to look too far to discover nations, equal in stature to Canada, who, in one key area or more, fall short of what is considered to be an acceptable standard. Newscasts are filled daily with reports from countries where conflict rages on, where misery, mostly a result of human action or inaction, is widespread, and the lack of the rule of law is the expected norm.

We find the civility of our nation, though tested more often than it should be, comforting. We revel in its wide open spaces that beckon its citizens to escape, if only for as brief interlude, from the crush of daily life. We like the fairness exemplified in so much that is Canada. Fair treatment for all, access to the key services, services which ensure a high quality of life for all of our citizens, a political system that allows for dissent and accommodates a variety of opinions.

So we salute you Canada. Your empty spaces, cosmopolitan cities, the verve and variety of your citizens.

Raise your flag high this July 1 and join your fellow Canadians in a salute to a country that is indeed the best place to live in the entire world. Happy birthday Canada!!

Motivated by a vendetta?

Editor:

I was delighted to see that a revived Moore's Lake property owners' association was to rise from the ashes. With very few businesses in the Township, Moore's Lake serves as a very valuable asset in Lutterworth as its second largest lake. Moore's Lake property owners pay a large portion of the Lutterworth tax revenue and as such, they need a vehicle such as an association to ensure the protection of their interests.

However, as I read the article (The Times - April 9, 2001), it became clear that Ms. Brown's motivation in "starting" the Association "is a direct result of controversial applications that were being made on Moore's Lake by Lutterworth Township Councillors Mike Wahlroth and Bill Valentine". That throws an entirely different light on Ms. Brown's 'noble' cause.

Specifically, I wish to discuss former Councillor Mike Wahlroth and his applications for severance that have apparently driven Ms. Brown on what appears to me to be a personal vendetta.

Ms. Brown's crusade became quite clear and quite public when she joined forces with others at the all-candidates meeting prior to the election last fall. It was very evident at that meeting that the issues were NOT a concern for the lake, but very personal issues of political revenge for favours not granted by Council (i.e.: Council's justifiable refusal to take over the cottage road from the Buller Road to Moore's Lake). The accusation being made by Ms. Brown et al was that Mr. Wahlroth's severances were receiving special treatment because he was a Councillor at the time and therefore he was not worthy of holding office.

Let me assure Ms. Brown that there are probably few people more deserving to hold office.

Some history will help demonstrate my point:

The Wahlroth family is a branch of the Bryant family who homesteaded on East Moore's Lake in the 1850's. The Wahlroth family bought land on Moore's Lake in 1929. The original property covered the entire point of land between Moore's Lake and East Moore's Lake totaling over three miles of shoreline!

Over the past 70+ years, the family sold property to a very select few friends and acquaintances. To date, after generations of ownership, only 20 properties have been "developed", leaving Mr. Wahlroth with nearly 1 mile of undeveloped shoreline. There is clearly no rush on his part to line the shore with elbow-to-elbow cottages nor line his pockets with cash. His approach has been very responsible and conservative to say the least!

Most certainly Mr. Wahlroth is the largest property owner on the lake (if not in the entire Township) and as such, he has a huge vested interest in preserving the lake. He has demonstrated that interest a number of times over the years. I am sure that Ms. Brown will be interested to know that he was President of the original Moore's Lake Association for two and a half terms and worked tirelessly for the lake at that time.

My point is simply that Mr. Wahlroth has spent his entire life on the lake and is probably much more aware of the need to preserve it than most, including Ms. Brown.

Which leads me back to the "controversial" severances. Mr. Wahlroth simply wishes to give each of his three children a part of their family inheritance. Just how does Ms. Brown see controversy in this??

Does Ms. Brown suggest that if a person is elected to public office, then that person should lose the right to conduct their personal affairs?

I have known Mr. Wahlroth for over 35 years and as his friend and lately political advisor/campaign manager, I can personally attest to his honesty and

Bad news bears

Editor.

Yes! The bruins are getting bolder by the season. Up at Kennisis Lake, they've moved away from the dump and into open cottage country.

I found a very large one, probably five feet or more, snuffling around my deck on Wilkinson Drive last week. A neighbour found a couple of them trying to pry open their locked freezer, which was located under the outside deck. And, they don't scare easily any more. Shouting, clapping and loud noises only seem to encourage them.

Now, from your recent article, it seems their list of misdemeanors includes break and enter into cars and SUVs. Perhaps they've now come to associate cars with the fast food boxes that some people carelessly leave on the floor.

It's a worry for families with young children wandering around the cottage lots picking at raspberries in the coming season.

One of the problems seems to be the few people who are careless with food, wrappers, waste and scraps. I've seen food scraps left behind by contractors working on site. There are always the fringe idiots who dump their waste along the road side, rather than wait until the landfill opens. And, I've even seen unattended garbage bags outside back doors.

Seems there's a lot more bears about than ever before and I wonder if the Wildlife people who count the bear populace can confirm or deny this.

Anyhow, we all live in the same forest and I guess the best we can do is be careful - and - please don't leave a food invitation lying about. That's simply asking for trouble.

Wilf McOstrich,
Kennisis Lake.

Thank you Tracey

Editor:

I believe that Tracey Brown deserves a big thank you for all of her efforts in organizing our trip to Santa's Village on Wednesday, June 20. She arranged for us to go on the group rate which made the trip much more affordable for all.

I understand that 127 people from Minden were there this year. The weather was perfect and I am sure that everyone had a great time.

Thanks again for everything Tracey.

A golden oldie

I crave your indulgence today, dear reader.

A near-sacred icon of my life has passed away and I find myself in need, as the current cliché goes, of closure.

Chances are this monument from my youth means little or nothing to you - but then again, chances are your life, too, was touched as deeply as mine, for this Giant Presence worked its way into the warp and weft of many a Canadian psyche, from the moment of its birth, nearly half a century ago...right up until last month.

Who is this precious chum I speak of?

Why, just that - chum. Or rather CHUM.

If you grew up within the force field of Toronto (which is to say anywhere from Winnipeg to Cornwall; Sudbury to Windsor) in the 50's, 60's and 70's, CHUM 1050 was a radio station as familiar as the smell of frying bacon in your kitchen.

It hit the airwaves just about the time that Gene Vincent, the Big Bopper and Little Richard were transforming the moribund North American pop music scene.

CHUM had the same, sassy, up-yours energy. It flipped the bird to our stodgy old teachers and hopelessly square parents. The very first tune it played was All Shook Up by a sideburned, swivel-hipped truck driver from Memphis.

CHUM was high octane, loud and irreverent. And it was ours. CHUM gave us a pantheon of deejay heroes - names that ricochet to this day through the graying skulls of aging baby boomers - Duff Roman, Bob Laine, Jungle Jay Nelson and Al Boliska. The station even rewrote the English language - not necessarily for the better.

Weather reports including the latest reading from the 'Chumometer'; we learned how hot and sticky the day was going to be from the 'Chumidity Index'.

As the years went by, other radio stations followed CHUM's lead, but the station had a pit bull grip on the pantleg of popular music - and knew it. In 1987, CHUM supposedly dropped its pop format in favour of Golden Oldies. In fact, history had caught up to the station.

The music CHUM had been playing all along, had suddenly become 'classic'. CHUM went right on playing Brook Benton and Brenda Lee, the Everly Brothers and Dinah Washington, Buddy Holly, the Beatles and the Stones. - just as it had for the best part of 30 years. (Okay, they also played Teresa Brewer, Fabian and Tiny Tim. I never said CHUM was perfect.)

I don't know how other people who grew up with CHUM in their ears visualized the physical layout of CHUM headquarters, but in my mind it had to be nothing short of a cathedral. I could but dimly imagine how palatial the digs must be whence emanated the music that I listened to virtually every waking moment.

I assumed that Jungle Jay Nelson traveled in a smoke-windowed stretch limo.

I knew in my heart that Duff Roman wore a toga to work and drank champagne from crystal goblets, while a bevy of Playboy centerfolds peeled his grapes for him.

The truth, as it so often is, was somewhat different.

I had occasion to drop in to the CHUM radio station headquarters on Yonge Street a few years back to be interviewed about a book I'd written.

The place was seedy, scruffy, down at the heels, and seemed to be run by terminally bored kids. The radio studios were drab and claustrophobic.

A pop machine in the grubby lobby wore an 'out of order' sign that was yellowing with age. If I'd seen the inside of CHUM HQ when I was seventeen, it would have broken my heart, but by the time I got through the door I was middle-aged, flat-footed and a little further down the road in terms of my musical tastes.

The disillusionment wasn't too overpowering. But I'll tell you what is hard to take - CHUM's newest transformation. Last month the station abandoned its musical format to become... An all sports station. Gah!

Just what the nation needed - another spot on the dial infested with hyperventilating jocks burling the play-by-play of a game between the Ottawa Senators and the Okefenokee Swamp Lizards.

I just hope someone in CHUM management had the wit to make sure the last tune aired on their station was a repeat of the first one played 44 years ago - All Shook Up.

Board concerned about the erosion of the public education system

The Trillium Lakelands District School Board applied to make a presentation to the provincial finance committee holding hearings into the government's proposed tax credit for parents wishing to send their children to private schools. Since the board was not granted standing at those hearings, trustees have issued the following open letter to the local Members of Provincial Parliament to be forwarded to the members of the Finance Committee and to Ontario Treasurer Jim Flaherty.

The Trillium Lakelands District School Board covers a largely rural area stretching from Algonquin Park to Honey Harbour to south of Highway 7. It takes in Haliburton County, the District of Muskoka and the former Victoria County, and serves about 22,000 students.

We became trustees because we believe passionately in public education. A strong public school system, open to all, is unquestionably the best way to ensure a society whose citizens understand each other and celebrate their diversity. It has been said that schools are the last great leveler in our lives — the last place where future judges, farmers, clerks, nurses and even MPPs can eat lunch and play sports together.

Until now, it has also been the only place many children would learn that some of their friends prefer chopsticks to forks, or soccer to baseball. Ontario schools have provided our children with the chance to learn about each others traditions and cultures without really knowing they're learning at all. They have laid a foundation of understanding on which our increasingly tolerant society has been built.

This ill-conceived tax credit plan will chip away at that foundation until the tolerance itself collapses. If you are a parent, take a moment to think of your own child's circle of friends. Now take one away — thanks to the tax credit, she's going to a Christian school. Take another — he's off to Lakefield College School. A third is headed for Hebrew school, a fourth to a school for Sikh children.

Who is left? Students of very similar cultural and religious backgrounds, and those who are too poor to contemplate private school even with this proposed tax credit. Who loses? All the children in our example. That is because they will be spending their time with children who are more like them, and none at all with your integrity, especially concerning the lake and what it has meant to him throughout his life. If Ms. Brown is suggesting that the "controversy" comes out of his conduct as a Councillor, then I can say that she is dead wrong and that this is political fodder for her own agenda. Councillor Wahlroth conducted himself quite properly as required by the rules set by Council to govern itself and excused himself from the discussion and the vote. The same procedure held true in his position with the Land Division Committee. The remainder of the approval process is out of the hands of Council and will follow a normal course.

In the end, I am confident that the severances will be approved and that whatever the Wahlroth children do with the land, the lake will not suffer since they will need to comply with current day environmental requirements, including shoreline development, septic, etc. They simply will not be allowed to conduct themselves as the current property owners are allowed to do.

And that leads me to my final point. As Ms. Brown valiantly leads the charge against my friend, what does she suggest the property owners do about the problems that already exist and have been "grandfathered" over the years?

It would be interesting to see what would be revealed if a water test was taken from the lake at the end of each and every property.

It would be interesting to measure the air samples at specific potential sources of pollution such as old furnaces, a certain foundry and the commercial operators on or near the Lake.

It would be interesting to see a census of boats on the lake, the number of boats per family and the number of boats over 100 horsepower.

I wonder if Ms. Brown would see controversy of a different nature then.

The controversy that Ms. Brown helped create has resulted in Lutterworth Township losing a very dedicated councillor who ran for election out of an interest for the community and certainly out of an abiding love for Moore's Lake.

by Jim Hindle

The Minden Indoor Lawn Bowling Club is rolling along quite smoothly and the league teams are having a great time competing against each other.

Several fund-raising events are being planned, so watch for them in this column.

Don't forget, our next jitney is scheduled for Friday, July 20, so keep that date open.

We still need more new members to fill our schedule, so if you are interested in lawn bowling, come on out to our club, which is located at the Minden Curling Club building, and watch our members in action. The rate for a season of fun is only $40 for league members and $10 for social members. Social members can fill in as spares for only $5 per game.

Where else can you find a better bargain for the remaining summer months?

If you want any further membership information, please give Madge Bennett a call at 286-

Get wet and wild this weekend

Wild Rock Outfitters of Peterborough and its two satellite shops, the Boat Werks, located on Highway 35 in Minden and at the Ottawa River, is hosting a White Water Paddling Festival on June 30. The event will be held at the Minden Wild Water Preserve on Horseshoe Lake Road One. Activities will take place on the Gull River and in the park across the river from Horseshoe Lake Road.

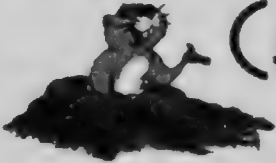

Organizers say the goal of the event is to get as many white water paddlers as possible to come out and play for the weekend.

Paddlers pay $25 and sign a waiver. They get a wrist band which entitles them to a barbecue dinner, access to demo boats, access to clinics, entry into the "Average Joe/Jane Rodeo, a funky Gull River Festival T-shirt, camping and other goodies.

Several companies, representing boats and gear, clothing, paddling schools and retail stores, will have booths at the festival. To top off the weekend the funk/ska/reggae band Slip and the Hi-Fives will entertain.

tions for the stresses on our systems," Brandon told the meeting. "Know that the board of directors, and the entire staff at HCACL always have the association's and most importantly, the people we support, best interests at heart."

Guest speaker, David Barber, President of the Barrie and District Association for Community Living and Algonquin Regional representative for the Ontario Association for Community Living, congratulated the local committee for their dedication and innovation. He noted that recent lobbying efforts at the provincial level have increased the visibility of the association and the needs of its clients.

"There must be resources in place before deinstitutionalization can take place," he told the gathering. "These people will need services and supports if they are to function successfully in the community."

He praised the provincial government for its recent commitments of funding for such services and said recognition of the need was due in part to the lobbying done by the OACL.

He challenged the organization to prepare for the future. He noted that although the group recently completed a strategic planning exercise, "...the one thing constant in the world is change."

Special tribute was also paid to board member Robert Heinze who passed away suddenly earlier this year. A plaque, which will hang in the HCACL office was presented to his widow Robin along with the appreciation for his years of enthusiastic dedication.

Before the meeting closed, the association paid tribute to the more than 80 individuals and organizations which have been supportive of its efforts. Noting that a list such as this will inevitably omit someone, Anderson sought indulgences in advance from those overlooked.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to the following:

Keeping the links open

by Joel Levis, Haliburton County Librarian

There's no reason why you have to feel cut off from the outside world when you are at the cottage. Every branch of the Haliburton County Public Library has email access facilities available when the branch is open, all part of our new @yourlibrary™ program.

Not sure when the branch is open or where your local branch is located?

There are a number of places to check, even if you lost the "hours open" slip due to a faulty refrigerator magnet melt-down. You can get another at any branch; just ask if they are not immediately visible.

Check the yellow pages of your Bell telephone directory. The libraries are listed there with telephone numbers. And check the white pages as well as the new Highlands Perspective directory due out this week.

Not sure which number to try? Call the County Library Administrative Centre at 705-457-2241 and we can help you.

If you can't find your telephone book, then try our website. The easiest way is to link through www.county.haliburton.on.ca

It's always tempting...but

It's always tempting to simply jump in the boat and go, but take a moment to ensure your safety. Take along all the safety equipment the law requires. Check the weather forecast before you leave the dock. Tell someone where you are going and when you expect to return. Leave the alcohol on shore.

Bears show lack of fear, breaking into home

placed a live trap in the area and at 1 a.m. Tuesday, one of the culprits was caught. Early Tuesday morning, neighbours went out to look at the trapped bear. Shortly after 6 a.m. another bear appeared on the scene showing no signs of fear of the people, and giving no signs of leaving the area, one of the neighbours went and got a rifle and shot the animal.

Hillhorst speculated the bear that was shot was about five to six years old. It appeared to be a healthy adult male.

The same night that the bear was trapped, Albert Yakeley's ice hut was broken into by a bear. He had stashed his garbage in the ice hut — away from the house. Part of the wall was torn away by the bear to gain entry.

Hillhorst has relocated three bears this season, including the one from the Lutterworth Pines trap and one this past weekend from Miners Bay Lodge, where a bear wouldn't allow anyone near a dumpster. He said relocation is only an option if a bear is being "especially naughty." That translates to showing too much aggression.

Another incident

A bear caused an injury to a Minden area resident, in an indirect way.

Ed and Louise Docherty were relaxing on the porch of their Tennyson Road home recently when they heard a ripping sound. Investigating the sound, they discovered a bear tearing at the seat of their snowmobile. Louise made a dash to get the family dog. A misstep along the way resulted in a serious injury that is expected to take a couple of years to heal, if it ever heals properly. The Achilles tendon separated at her heel. She is now sporting a cast and has a couple of years' therapy to look forward to.

With the bear still in the yard, trying to get at something in the snowmobile, Ed retrieved his .30-30 and approached the bear. It showed little fear and only ran off when Ed fired a shot over its head. But, even that appeared to be a temporary solution for the Dochertys. "What scares me is the fact that it circled around and came back,"

B&E: Albert Yakeley, a resident of Lutterworth Pines, points to the paw marks on the wall below the window where a bear entered his house, tore up the garbage and tried to get into his freezer. Bears also broke into Yakeley's garage and his ice fishing hut before one was trapped and another one was shot.

CAPTURED: This was the lucky one of the two bears that were mauling around Lutterworth Park, south of Minden, recently. It was captured and released in a remote area by MNR bear specialist Bart Hillhorst.

DISPATCHED: This bear, an adult male, was shot at Lutterworth Pines when he demonstrated a total lack of fear of the people who were checking the live trap which contained another bear.

Rescue helicopter pays a visit to Haliburton

by Jerry Grozelle

A huge search and rescue helicopter landed, unannounced to the public, at the ball park beside the Dysart Community Centre Thursday evening. Local emergency personnel were aware of the fact that the helicopter was coming. The visit by the Trenton Air/Sea Rescue 424 Squadron was arranged by Bob English, Manager of Haliburton County Emergency Medical Services.

Members of the Haliburton Tri-Services Committee (Police, EMS and Fire) had a chance to meet the helicopter crew and tour the huge twin prop helicopter. The crew flew up from Trenton to take part in the committee's meeting and make a presentation outlining what the squadron does and the services it provides.

More than 100 Haliburton and area residents also took the opportunity to tour the helicopter.

English pointed out that the Air/Sea Rescue Squadron provides services that the Air Ambulance can't. The air ambulance can only land where conditions are suitable, for example a flat open place, clear of wires and other obstructions. The air ambulance is not equipped to hover and lift victims of accidents from the scene.

The Air/Sea Rescue helicopter, on the other hand, is capable of performing such manoeuvres in tight quarters and in remote areas where the air ambulance can't.

During the day, the Squadron can be mobilized within a few minutes and after hours, when the crew is on standby, the crew is guaranteed to be in the air within two hours. But even during the middle of the night, response times are usually much less. The flight from Squadron) I thought it was important for emergency services here in the county to know who they are what they do.

The helicopter arrived at 7 o'clock

Police, Ambulance and Fire Department personnel had an opportunity to tour a Search and Rescue helicopter, along with more than 100 curious Haliburton area residents, Thursday evening when the crew landed on the ball field at the Dysart Community Centre.

Trenton to Haliburton took 35 minutes.

The Tri-Service Committee meeting was held at 8 p.m. at the Haliburton Fire Hall, featuring a presentation by the Search and Rescue crew.

"The presentation was really informative," English said. "If we have a need for them (the Air/Sea Rescue and that gave all the emergency services personnel the opportunity to have a look at the equipment, talk to the flight crew and the SAR-Techs (Medics) and at 8 o'clock we had a meeting at the fire hall. They put on a power point presentation describing who they are, who they work for and what they can do for us. It was a huge information night and everybody who was involved was thrilled that they could come here and put on a presentation like that for us. It gave us all a better understanding of what resources they have and what services they can offer us here in the county."

About 40 police, ambulance and fire personnel from the area, including a few from Muskoka and Lindsay who serve parts of Haliburton County, were on hand for Thursday's meeting, presentation and tour of the aircraft.

Sharing information

English formed the Tri-Services Committee as an information sharing medium. The committee meets every two months.

"We start off each meeting with the department heads doing debriefings on what has been going on over the past two months and what is planned for the future, like what's going on for the summer, in terms of events and whether any co-ordinating needs to be done back and forth between services," English said. "So it's a real information sharing thing that never took place in the county before. We've found that its already paid huge dividends just by being able to work together."

"Before, everybody did their own thing and they sort of ricocheted. Nobody seemed to know what each other was doing and when a major incident happened, people weren't co-ordinated," English said. "There are a lot of resources that can be shared. That's what it's all about."

One bear is relocated, another one is shot

Louise Docherty said.

Although he didn't get a shot at the bear, Ed Docherty will not hesitate to shoot the bear if it returns. "Ed is a hunter and I've hunted with him since I was 16," Louise said.

The Docherty had seen a smaller bear in the area before, but this bruin was a big one. That encounter was the fourth bear sighting for the Dochertys in the past couple of months.

"This is getting scary," Louise said. "There are too many bears around."

She blames the cancellation of the spring bear hunt for the increasing numbers and frequency of encounters with bears. She says she is very concerned for the safety of children.

"Thank goodness my husband is a hunter," Louise said. "If it (the bear) comes back, he'll take care of it. I just hope it doesn't get a child first."

On the positive side, regarding her injury, Louise commends the physician at the Minden Hospital who treated her when she arrived with the tendon injury. The doctor recognized the seriousness of the injury and had her transferred to Peterborough, where she was taken in for surgery immediately.

Hillhorst said he expects the number of human/bear encounters will decrease as food such as berries become available. But, with the bear population on the rise, he speculates that there are bound to be more encounters. As of this past Saturday, the MNR has fielded 135 calls about nuisance bears so far this spring.

Bears have a very keen sense of smell, making it almost impossible to hide something as tantalizing as garbage is to them. Think of a neighbour barbecuing steak and how easy it is for the human olfactory system to pick up that aroma. Garbage has the same effect on bears, but their olfactory sensitivity is considerably more acute than that of a human. Leaving garbage in a garage, utility shed or in a back room of a home is like ringing the dinner bell for any bears in the area.

"The best way to avoid bear encounters is to keep a clean house," Hillhorst said.

If you do encounter a bear that appears to have an attitude, Hillhorst offers some advice.

"You have to try to scare him more than he scares you," Hillhorst said. "I know that's not easy."

Sometimes a bear will "false charge." In that situation it is best to stand your ground. In most cases, the bear will stop short and run off. That situation recently happened to Hillhorst.

"The bear charged right at me," he said. "It veered off about three feet away. I didn't have a gun. I thought I was dead."

Even though he has considerable experience with bears, Hillhorst admits he was scared. "My heart was pounding so hard it felt like it was about two feet in front of my chest," he quipped.

MESSY VISITORS: A bear was an unwelcome visitor at the home of Albert and Nelda Yakeley.

VON will expand adult day centre services to Wilberforce

The Victorian Order of Nurses, Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton Branch has announced the opening of a new Adult Day Program in Wilberforce beginning next month.

The program is designed to benefit older adults living in the community who are facing a variety of physical, mental and social challenges.

Participants may be seniors who are socially isolated, individuals with chronic health problems such as Alzheimer's disease or Parkinson syndrome, or individuals who have suffered a stroke. Participants attending the program can enjoy a day of planned activities at the centre while their caregivers get a much-needed day of respite.

Activities are designed according to individual interests and abilities and include such things as baking, simple woodworking projects, cards and table games, music and singing or physical activities such as walking, bowling or horseshoes. Experienced and professional staff provide a safe and supportive environment for all who attend.

The program will operate every Wednesday at the Lloyd Watson Community Centre in Wilberforce. There are already two centres which currently operate in Haliburton and Minden.

Anyone who knows of a friend or family member who could benefit from a day of social and recreational activity in a secure and therapeutic setting or would like more information, can call VON at 286-6031 or 1-800-743-6255. Referrals can also be initiated by calling the Community Access Centre at 457-1600 or 1-800-347-0285.

Take the DARE

Students from the Dorest Elementary School who successfully completed the DARE program received their certificate and T-shirts June 18. The program is designed to teach young students how to make wise choices about the use of alcohol, drug and tobacco. It also includes a component on peer pressure and bullying. The 17 week program was co-ordinated by Constable Laura Ostler of the Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

School principal Doris Macdonald had praise for the program, saying it gave the students an opportunity to get to know a police officer as an individual and better understand their role in protecting society.

The Dorset Community Policing Association helped sponsor the program.

Detachment Commander, Staff Sergeant Bob Walli, congratulated the youngsters for completing the course and the community for supporting it. He said the co-operation between students, the school, parents, community and the detachment is essential in making this program work.

Marlene Shortreed, speaking on behalf of the Community Policing Association, noted the organization had no hesitation in sponsoring the program. "This is for our children and our community," she said.

As part of the ceremony, the students presented a number of skits to illustrate the lessons they had learned. As well, two students, Julie White and Caleb McKay, read the essays they had written describing what the program meant to them.

Bidding for good health

Expect to see everything from bedpans to beds Wednesday, July 4 as the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation hosts a giant auction at the former Minden Hospital site.

"With the construction of the new facilities we have been left with a surplus of used equipment," Haliburton Highlands Health Services executive director Foster Loucks stated. "We have gathered all the un-needed but still useful equipment at the former Minden Hospital site and will be holding an auction to dispose of it."

The HHHS Foundation is co-ordinating the auction, with all proceeds going to the Foundation. Money raised by the Foundation is used to help pay for the local portion of the hospital projects in Minden and Haliburton, and for ongoing equipment needs at the two hospitals and long-term care facilities in Minden and Haliburton. The Foundation also supports the continuing education needs of health care workers at HHHS.

The Minden Healthcare Centre Auxiliary will be on hand during the auction, providing refreshments for the crowd as well as hosting a bake sale.

Auctioneer Norm Mills has donated his services for this fund-raiser.

The auction begins at 10 a.m.

And if auctions appeal to you, a second sale planned for Tuesday, July 17, will also benefit the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation. The new owners of the former Deer Lodge property on North Kashagawigamog Road are selling off everything to make way for the construction of the Deer Point development. All the proceeds from this sale will be going to the Hospital Foundation as well.

On the block will be the contents of the lodge and all the cabins and even the cabins themselves.

The sale begins at 8 a.m. Deer Lodge is located on North Kashagawigamog Road, opposite Wigamog Resort.

Parish begins summer youth program

--submitted--

The Anglican Parish of Minden-Kinmount, under the spiritual leadership of Rev. Merv Everall of Minden, has begun a new youth initiative for the summer.

A Youth Ministry Team has been formed under the direction of Nathan and Naomi Stephenson, two Minden area university students, who are members of St. Paul's Church, attending courses in Peterborough and Sault-Ste-Marie. The other members of the leadership team are Barbara Trocewicz, Gaye Conebeare-Botticella, Brenda Burt, all of the Haliburton County area and Catherine King, a ministerial student who lives and works in Orillia but is on loan to the Parish of Minden-Kinmount for the summer.

The Youth Ministry Team is an attempt to provide youth programming to the four churches of the Anglican Parish: St. Peter's, Maple Lake; St. James', Kinmount; St. John's, Irondale; and St. Paul's, Minden.

However, the Vacation Bible Schools, youth groups, conferences, special youth Sunday services, sports and social activities are open to all young people and children, including those who come to vacation in the area. One of the projects already underway is a Biblical mural of Old and New Testament characters completely designed and painted by the senior youth group which meets at the Anglican Rectory on North Water Street in Minden every Friday evening. The mural is being painted on the walls of the upper hallway of St. Paul's church next door.

Summer program includes mural

The main emphasis of the Youth Ministry Team is to provide four Vacation Bible Schools at the four churches throughout July and August for both local and visiting children and teens. Instead of "bringing in" outside teams of young people to provide and run the programs, the Team will use local young people and volunteers during this busy time of year when the summer visitors from the Golden Horseshoe are here.

The four V.B.S.'s are at St. Peter's Maple Lake from Monday to Friday, July 9 to 13; St. James' Kinmount from July 16 to 20; St. John's Irondale from July 30 to August 3 and St. Paul's Minden from August 6 to 10. They will be held in the mornings and will be on the theme "The Parables of Jesus." The program is being prepared by Naomi and Nathan Stephenson, and will feature Bible stories, crafts, indoor and outdoor games, snacks, worship services, music and song, fellowship and fun. There is no charge for the Vacation Bible Schools, but a freewill offering would be appreciated at the closing services.

Several youth volunteers who attend local schools are also helping with the various programs and activities. A music group is being formed, as is a brass quintet. They will provide the musical accompaniment for the Sunday services and the Vacation Bible Schools.

Rev. Merv Overall believes that this new program is an important experiment for the church as a whole, but particularly for the Anglican Diocese of Toronto. At a time when rural churches are struggling to provide relevant and interesting programs for children and teens, and because of the unique situation that "cottage country" congregations are in, this initiative is a way to involve the whole rural community.

For information about this program or to register for the Vacation Bible Schools, parents and young people may call the "Parish" office in Minden at 286-2541.

Home Hardware opening

Haliburton-Victoria-Brock MPP Chris Hodgson was on hand to assist Jim Hannivan at the grand opening of the rebuilt store on Coboconk's Main Street. The two used bolt cutters to slice through a chain to officially open the new store. The retail outlet has been undergoing construction since last fall, when the building was demolished and then rebuilt one section at a time so the store could remain open. Hannivan paid tribute to the contractors and his employees who worked through and around some difficult situations. "There were some cold days in there during the winter," he told the crowd gathered to witness the ceremony. "They hung in there through all of this." MPP Chris Hodgson congratulated the hardware store owner on the new 2500 square foot store. "Through your efforts, the local economy is continuing to grow," he said. Terry Jenkins the Home Hardware district representative offered his congratulations to the store owner and presented him with a plaque marking the occasion.

June meeting of Minden Women's Institute

The members and friends of the Minden Women's Institute met at the Library Cultural Centre for the June meeting and were welcomed by the president, Rita Baird to our noon luncheon.

After repeating the Women's Institute Grace, a delicious meal of salads and desserts was enjoyed by all. After this, an auction of plants and baked goods was conducted by Rita Baird.

The programmes for the coming year and sheets for marking down our volunteer hours were handed out. The roll call was answered by fourteen members and eleven guests were welcomed.

President Rita Baird presented Jean Cox with a Women's Institute Past President's Pin from the members with a few well-chosen words and thanked her for her splendid leadership during the past seven years. Jean thanked everyone and she was given a hearty round of applause.

Rita Baird reported sending out 13 cards. The Pennies for Friendship were collected. Arrangements were made for serving sandwiches and cookies at the Artisan's Festival at the arena on July 7 and 8.

It was decided to enter an exhibit at the County Fair from the Women's Institute and the theme will be decided at a later date.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the Queen."

Mary Cox Secretary.

Share a thought for loons this Canada Day weekend

Keep loons and other water birds in mind as you enjoy your first taste of summer this holiday weekend.

The Canadian Lakes Loon Survey asks summer recreationists to use sensitive boating and fishing practices while they visit their favourite lakes.

"The period of time encompassing the Canada Day weekend is extremely important for survival of Common Loon chicks," says Kathy Jones, Canadian Lakes Loon Survey Volunteer Coordinator. "It's also the time when human activity on lakes is the highest and people have the greatest potential to affect loons raising their recently hatched chicks."

Why do we need to be concerned about loons when there seems to be an abundance of them on Canadian lakes?

During the last 150 years, Common Loons have been squeezed out of many areas of their breeding range, and their nesting habitat has been destroyed.

Because of these concerns, participants of the Canadian Lakes Loon Survey (CLLS) have collected valuable information about breeding loons since 1981. Examination of the data gives real cause for concern.

For example, analyses of Ontario-derived CLLS data reveal that reproductive success has declined during the last ten years. This pattern of decline suggests that while many adult loons may still be present on lakes, fewer of them have been successfully raising young. Similar patterns may be present in other parts of Canada; however more surveyors are required to determine whether this pattern prevails elsewhere in loon country.

Why is the early summer such an important time for loons?

Loon chicks begin to hatch in late June with the majority hatching around July 1. During the first week, the small chicks are extremely vulnerable to separation from their parents. Parents can be become separated from their young by fast moving watercraft and their wakes or by slow moving boats and canoes coming too close and causing the adults to panic. Often these incidents occur without people even being aware of it. When loons see a boat approaching the adults will hide the young, then dive to resurface a safe distance away. This leaves their young vulnerable to predation and the stressed adults spend an excessive amount of time trying to protect themselves and their young instead of foraging for their food-demanding chicks.

Fast moving boats cause separation so quickly that the adults may have difficulty finding their young, especially if large wakes cause both adults and young to become disoriented. "To make matters worse, loon chicks are difficult to see and cannot dive as well as their parents, making it very easy for power boats and personal water crafts to accidentally run them over without even knowing it!" says Ms. Jones.

Another concern is fishing tackle. Loons may become entangled in discarded fishing line or lost tackle during under water feeding, hindering their ability to preen their feathers and/or dive for food, which can eventually lead to death.

Loons ingest small pebbles to help grind and digest their food and can inadvertently swallow lost or discarded lead sinkers and jigs which can cause lead poisoning and sometimes death.

What can we do?

All is not lost! "There are many simple practices involving sensitive boating and angling techniques that help to ensure loons and their chicks remain safe during the busiest time of the boating season," says Ms. Jones who suggests the following:

- Keep an eye out! Look for loons and other water birds while you are on the lake.

- Give loons space! Steer around loons if you can, if you can't, slow down to give loons time to respond.

- Keep away! Steer clear of the shoreline and, if you have to approach it, slow down and keep your wake to a minimum.

- Don't discard! Find broken lines, lost hooks, and lost lead weights, and then dispose of them appropriately.

- Keep the lead-out! Use lead-free fishing sinkers and jigs when you fish. They can be purchased at many retail chains that sell fishing tackle.

- Become a citizen scientist! Monitor natal lakes and join the Canadian Lakes Loon Survey!

The Canadian Lakes Loon Survey (CLLS) is a project of Bird Studies Canada (BSC), a non-profit research organization dedicated to the study and conservation of wild birds and their habitats. An important portion of the survey's support is derived from annual participant fees ($25). These tax creditable contributions entitle CLLS participants to full BSC membership, which includes a year's subscription to BSC's newsletter, BirdWatch Canada. Fees are also necessary to offset costs of producing and distributing survey materials, managing data, and analysing and disseminating results.

To participate in the CLLS, send your name and address, along with your $25 membership fee to: The Canadian Lakes Loon Survey, Bird Studies Canada, P.O. Box 160, Port Rowan, ON N0E 1M0, E-mail: aqsurvey@bsc-eoc.org; Toll-free phone: 888-448-2473; Web Page: www.bsc-eoc.org/cllsmain.html. Please indicate whether you would like to receive a CLLS reporting booklet. All CLLS supporters receive annual updates about the survey's results.

'A great northern nation'

A Canada Day Message from the Honourable Hilary M. Weston, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario:

I have heard it said that Canada exists because its people have held in their hearts a determination to build for themselves an enduring home.

The First Nations have long dwelt from sea to sea to sea. And for 500 years, the promise of a new life in a new land has drawn people of courage and vision to these shores from around the world. All have helped to shape the destiny of the vast land we call Canada.

When Canada first became a nation, Father of Confederation Thomas D'Arcy McGee encouraged Canadians, "to cultivate that true breadth of spirit which embraces all creeds, all classes and all races in order to make of our boundless country, so rich in resources, a great new Northern nation."

Every generation has renewed this vision, and has redefined what it means to be Canadian. Today the world sees Canada as a truly multicultural nation, consistently judged by the United Nations to be the best country in which to live. Canadians have built a peaceable kingdom at home, and have pioneered the peace-keeping role abroad.

We have so much to celebrate this Canada Day. Let us salute the achievements of nation-builders, past and present. During this International Year of Volunteers, let us especially applaud the unsung heroes among us who demonstrate every day the community spirit which has made our country great.

In this fifth and final year of my mandate as The Queen's representative in Ontario, it gives me great pleasure to wish you a happy Canada Day.

New in books

One of the major selection criterion for materials collection development at the Haliburton County Public Library is "the right book for the right person at the right time" and this is why we spend considerable time in selecting non-fiction titles for the collection. That is why we say that there is more to the collection at any branch than light reading.

Need materials for a project, self-improvement or just plain interest-sake?

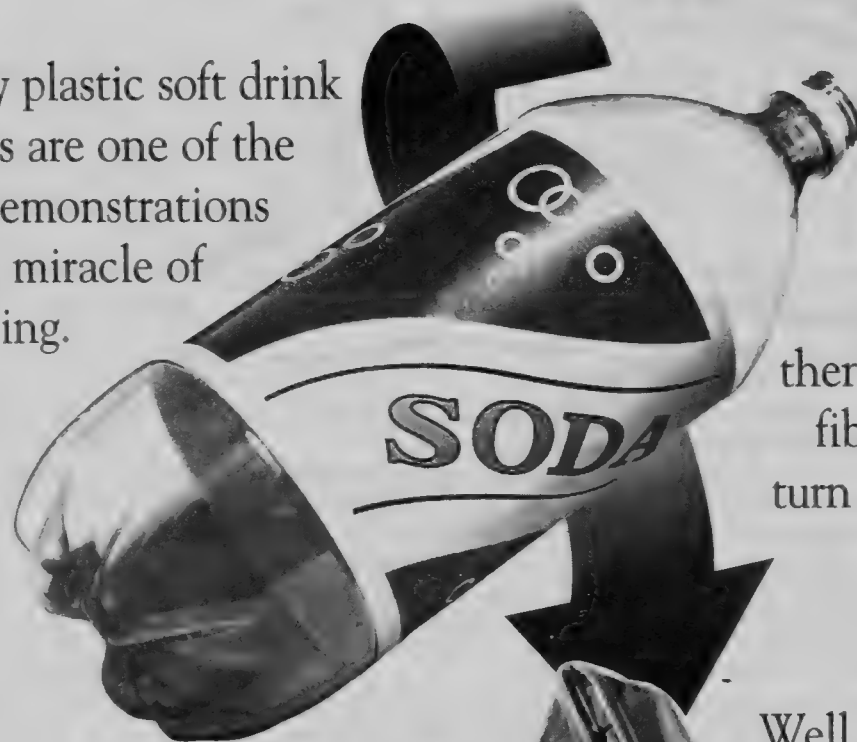

Check out the CD ROM Syllabus holdings available at any branch and see what we have for you. And remember that the possibilities of the InterLibrary Loan Service are always available. Just ask our local staff and they will be only too pleased to help you find the "right book at the right time" from elsewhere in the worldwide library collection.

- Bone: Dying Into Life by Marion Woodman
- Buried Alive: the Terrifying History of Our Most Primal Fear by Jan Bondeson

Empty plastic soft drink bottles are one of the best demonstrations of the miracle of recycling.

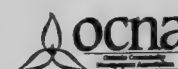

Ground into pellets, then spun into synthetic fibre, soft drink bottles turn into fleece clothing, t-shirts, jeans and fibre fill for sleeping bags and jackets. Well...almost a silk purse!

IMPORTANT CHANGES TO THE EMPLOYMENT INSURANCE PROGRAM

The Government of Canada has made changes to Employment Insurance (EI) to support Canadian families and to ensure that Canadians who need EI will have access to an improved program.

WHAT'S NEW

- There is no more intensity rule.* Now all EI claimants will receive at least 55% of their maximum insurable earnings. Retroactive to October 1, 2000.
- The benefit repayment (clawback) provision is no longer applicable for claimants who receive maternity, parental and sickness benefits, first-time claimants and claimants who make less than $48,750 net annual income. Retroactive to the 2000 taxation year.
- Parents who took extended absences from the workforce to care for young children may now be able to qualify for EI regular benefits like other workers. Retroactive to October 1, 2000.
- Self-employed fishers can now benefit fully from the changes made to maternity, parental and sickness benefits. Retroactive to December 31, 2000.

AUTOMATIC RETROACTIVE PAYMENTS

Since mid-June, Human Resources Development Canada has been automatically issuing retroactive payments for adjustments to EI claims affected by the changes. The Canada Customs and Revenue Agency will forward retroactive payments for clawback (2000 taxation year) automatically in about two months.

* The intensity rule, which gradually reduces the basic benefit rate of 55% to 50% for frequent EI users, proved to be ineffective and was removed.

Music of Paraguay will be featured in the Highlands

Residents of the Highlands will have an opportunity to hear the music of South America next week. Eduard Klassen will be performing at three churches in the county with the Paraguayan folk harp. His visit to the area is sponsored by the Anglican Parish.

Eduard Klassen was born and raised in an isolated area of Paraguay, South America (508 km to the nearest city) and was 15 years old when he first saw a paved highway. Playing the harp has been his passion since 1974. His formal musical training included five years of study in Asuncion and Ateneo, Paraguay.

He has experience in a variety of settings including churches of most denominations, large concerts, banquets, fund-raisers and ministry to seniors. Eduard has made numerous appearances on radio and television including Toronto's "100 Huntley Street". He has also recorded nine albums, several of which receive international airplay and distribution by the renowned "Bill Gothard" organization.

At age 20, Eduard accepted Jesus Christ as his personal saviour and since then, has followed the call into full time music ministry. When not touring, Eduard presently lives in Stratford, Ontario with his wife Christine and their two sons, Mathias and Sheldon.

The Paraguayan Harp is a traditional folk instrument. In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, missionaries from Spain brought the classical harp along with them to South America. The natives were intrigued with this instrument, made some changes to it and claimed it as part of their own culture.

Eduard Klassen will perform with the Paraguayan harp in three concerts.

The harp is made with a diatonic scale and has no foot pedals. It has only five octaves which makes playing it somewhat limiting. It is made of thin wood (cedar and pine) and is much lighter than the classical harp.

Because of the design, the sound is produced in two areas, the vibration of the chords and from the vibration of the wide instrument. The harp is known in most of the South American countries. Each country adapts its own design, style and rhythms.

The public is invited to attend any of these three performances:

- July 1 at St. Paul's in Minden at 11 a.m.
- July 1 at St. John's in Irondale at 7 p.m.
- July 2, at St. Peter's Maple Lake at 2 p.m.

CORPORATION OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF MINDEN HILLS NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING for a proposed ZONING BY-LAW AMENDMENT

The Corporation of the Municipality of Minden Hills will be holding a Public Meeting pursuant to Section 34 of the Planning Act (1990) to consider an Amendment to Zoning By-law No. 4-81 (Lutterworth).

The Public Meeting will be held at 4:20 p.m. on July 11, 2001 at the Minden Hills Municipal Office in Minden.

Copies of the proposed Amendment are available for review in the Municipal office during regular office hours. Anyone wishing to address Council with respect to the proposal may do so at the Public Meeting. Persons unable to attend the Public Meeting may provide written comments to Council up until the time of the Public Meeting.

If a person or public body that files a notice of appeal of a decision of Council in respect of the proposed Zoning By-law Amendment does not make oral submission at the public meeting or make written submission to the Municipality of Minden Hills before the proposed Amendment is passed, the Ontario Municipal Board may dismiss all or part of the appeal.

Purpose of the By-law Amendment

The Zoning By-law Amendment would rezone two parcels that are proposed to be severed from the Shoreline Residential Type Two (SR2) Zone the Shoreline Residential Type Two Exception Twenty Eight (SR2-28) Zone. This rezoning is a condition of Consent Applications H-97/00 and H-101/00.

Effect of the By-law

The rezoning of the severed parcels would permit the construction of a seasonal dwelling house on each parcel and prevent further lots from being created. The exception zone will require a minimum lot area of 2 hectares (5 acres) for each parcel.

Lands Affected by the Applications

This By-law affects Part of the Lots 7 and 8, Concession 13, in the former Township of Lutterworth, now in the Municipality of Minden Hills. The subject lands are shown on the key map below.

Tolerance could be lost

son or daughter. So now your child will not discover that some kids go to Sunday school and some to Torah lessons, that some worship God and some worship Allah, that some speak languages other than English at home and some have distinctive national costumes.

What foundation will the tax credit erect in the place of what is being torn down? Instead of tolerance, it will build discrimination, since children who know nothing of each others' culture, religion and customs are much more likely to devalue and denigrate the differences they see in others.

Most of you will remember a time in Ontario when Catholic and Protestant children never played together, and when you could get assaulted for wandering through the 'other' part of town. Thanks to our public school system, those children grew up together, got to know each other, and realized they really weren't that different after all. This proposed tax credit would take us in exactly the opposite direction.

Not only will it undermine the basis of a caring and open-minded society, this proposal will also irreparably damage a public school system already crippled by provincial cutbacks. The more money that is taken away from the public system and given to private schools, the weaker that public system will inevitably become.

In Trillium Lakelands, we already struggle to provide our students with basics such as textbooks. We spend more than the province allocates just to give students with special needs a fighting chance. Our four-year-olds walk a kilometer or more to school because the province doesn't recognize that in a rural board, buses cost more money. Take more money away from public schools, and be prepared for more phone calls from angry constituents who cannot bear to see their children's education put at even greater risk. And for what? To direct money to schools that are not accountable to the same standards as public schools, despite the enormous energy and expense devoted to that accountability by the government. The parents of children in these religious and private schools have every right to choose an alternate form of education, but not at the expense of the children in our public schools.

Over the course of your hearings, you will be urged again and again by people like us to drop this proposal. If, however, the government chooses to go ahead with this disastrous tax credit scheme, it is essential that private and religious schools meet the same standards the Ministry of Education requires of the public system.

If they do not, Ontario will quickly see the development of two unequal systems: the public one, where students, teachers and administrators must meet the province's strict standards, and the private one, where the rules do not apply.

Are Ontarians really willing to use public tax dollars to support schools which have no criminal reference checks for staff or testing of teachers? Which do not have to administer the province's rigorous and expensive standardized tests? Which may well choose to teach creationism or racial intolerance? We do not think so.

In closing, we, the Trillium Lakelands District School Board, ask you to do everything in your power to stop this proposed tax credit NOW. In doing so, you would support a public school system that is in dire need of defenders, you would support tolerance and diversity, and, most importantly, you would support Ontario's children.

Judy Saunders
Chair of the Board

Trent Severn report

The following report was issued June 19 by Parks Canada.

The water levels throughout the entire Trent-Severn region have been closely following the 84 year average for the past few weeks and the past week, ending June 16, was no exception. The Kawartha lakes are only slightly above the average, with levels at 102% the full level. The flow on the Otonabee has been brought very close to the summer minimum, which is a little bit less than half the average for the month of June. In Haliburton, the lake levels are 90% full, which is approximately 3% below the average for the period. The Gull and Burnt rivers are currently flowing significantly below the June average values. The process of sending water from Haliburton into the Kawarthas was initiated at the end of last week, but the Kawarthas have not required the water to date. It is anticipated that water will be needed either by the end of this week or by the start of next.

Residents travel to Huntsville

Hello everyone. Well today is the first day of summer and the longest day of the year, and the sun is shining.

For those of us who participate in the exercise programs, we enjoy a walk afterward so we certainly appreciate this finer weather. While others, like Mary Robinson, Thelda Weston and Winnie Barnum, look forward to a relaxing massage. Our newly planted perennials are doing fine, thanks to dedicated watering. They will be lovely when they come into flower.

Hope all the fathers out there enjoyed your "Day". There were a few gentlemen here who enjoyed a special treat on Father's Day. Gerald Coulter, Jack Hoxie, Harold Orsborne, Gord Kent, Sid Roberts, Frank Young, Bill Redgrave and Roy Nichols all had a good time tucking into some yummy treats. Homemade tea biscuits, homemade bread with butter, fresh strawberries and cream along with maple syrup and freshly brewed coffee, if desired. What more could a man ask for? A few even sampled everything on the menu, some more than once! Needless to say, they had trouble getting up afterwards and finding room for lunch.

They sat around chewing the fat, talking about what it was like being a kid, and more important what it was like to be a father. They had a good time. It was much enjoyed and they all say thanks to Nancy! Our craft group is to be thanked for the lovely Father's Day placemats and handmade bookmarks for everyone. Each man receiving special ones.

Also on Father's Day we were fortunate to have the "Glad Tidings Quartet" visit with us. Pastor Dan Millard brought these gentlemen into our home and what a wonderful afternoon we had enjoying their beautiful voices. Quite a few of us attended including Edith Russell who had a special Happy Birthday sung to her by them. It was lovely and we appreciate their time spent with us.

We had a great group for our Tea Party last week. Some of the Highland Carvers were here and what an array of carvings they had to display. There were samples of birds, animals, as well as a few different items, for example - a sailboat, the interior of a pub with people playing cards and a team of horses pulling a sleigh with logs. The work is beautifully done and we realise how talented these people really are. We thank them for sharing their projects with us and also for bringing those delicious goodies for the tea.

There were fewer card players this week, however those who played still reported a good time. The results are - Thelda Weston with Margaret Bessie who won two games against Marjorie Watt and Harold Orsborne. Lets hope more players are out next week.

We were pleased to have Reverend Everall and Barbara Trocewicz with us for Holy Communion at Chapel on Tuesday. We appreciated Anne McAdam playing the organ for us while others attended Prayer Friends. Also visiting us was a lovely lady from the Salvation Army. She has a little bit of a journey to make to see us and we appreciate her coming very much.

We were saddened to learn of the death of Hazel Clarke on Friday, June 15, in her 86th year. Hazel was an amazing lady and her family often commented on what a lovely couple she and Ivan were, truly in love. Hazel was a great inspiration to her family and we will miss her also. Our condolences to her family and friends.

There was some great reminiscing this week, and because of the lovely weather, the group decided to sit outside in the garden. Mildred Gartshore, Mary Robinson, Edith Russell, Hilda Gillespie, Muriel Welch and Harriet Loucks all enjoyed this get together very much.

Gord Kidd was here for our Pub Night along with Julie, Lloyd and Neil. Good times are had with their music with one song right after another. A wonderful way to spend an evening. We say thanks to all. Jack and Ruth Worthington were also here for a Sing-Song, which delighted those who attended.

Before we go we must mention the good time that was had by those residents who took off for Huntsville. Each resident had a volunteer to assist and all enjoyed some shopping and a good look around. There were some wonderful craft displays in the mall. It made for a very interesting trip. Also much enjoyed was lunch out, which is always a special treat. The travellers arrived home tired and happy. A big thank you to the volunteers who made this trip possible.

Susie Kernohan (one of our Health Care Aides) will be married on Saturday, June 30. The lucky fellow is Steve Coumbs. We wish them much happiness.

One more thing to mention: we have some new photos mounted outside our activity rooms. They are pictures of our recent Mother's Day and also of Phyllis Sutherland's retirement party. When you're here you must have a look see.

We must go now, so have a good week and we'll talk with you soon. Hope a lot of you were able to visit with Edith Russell on her special day. We will have a report on that next time.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450; email <mindenhouse@on.abn.com>)

I heard on the news that Toronto has set up an early warning system for excessive heat to aid in the welfare of their citizens, especially the most vulnerable, the elderly, the very young and the homeless. They mentioned in the announcement summers are not like they used to be. With pollution, smog and holes in the ozone layer, the excess heat can be dangerous. Older people especially are not always aware of these changes: that summer is not like it used to be in "the good old days". I know I feel the difference. The hot sun seems to burn your skin. You can feel it. Not the warmth of it; the pleasure of it, like it used to be. To think it is now a danger is hard to take. The breathing problems of some are also a concern. All 'the stuff' in the air is not good for lungs.

With concern for those vulnerable people in the city, it is also good to know we are better off up here in the Highlands. We have lakes to live beside and jump into when that heat arrives. We can remember the good old days of summer because we are still living them. But..... we must be aware of the changes and protect ourselves and perhaps become part of the solution to these concerns rather than being part of the problem.

The Kinmount Seniors are holding a Flea Market in Kinmount at the Railroad Station on Saturday, June 30 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. I am sure this will be a good stop on your yard 'saling'!!

I had an email from my Ohio friends this morning. They are back at the cottage. It took them a little longer to reach the area this year, but they are now here to enjoy their days at the cottage. Welcome to them and all of you up here at your summer homes!!

***

As I write it is the longest day of the year. The first day of summer!! So welcome!! Last night the long twilight was most evident. There was still light at 9:45 p.m. Then I seemed ready to get up around 4:30 a.m. as the light was coming in the window. Only about 6 hours of darkness!! I used to be such a night hawk in my youth but now daylight is what I want to be in!!

The first of July coming up. The official start to the summer!! Canada Day celebrations!! Fun on and along the Gull River in Minden. I'll see you there!!
